PANCHRISTIANISM.
 THE SUCCESS OF CHRISTIANITY.

Those who are warm, excitable and imaginative, soon get infected with the enthusiasm of the saints; and following the example of their older brethren, fast and pray, and have visions, and work themselves into the belief that they actually receive in part the promised wonders and signs; while the more sober and practical of the converts, if they happen to express any disappointment at not obtaining the miraculous gifts which they looked for, are easily set at naught by the explanation that is because of their unbelief; because they are not truly converted. So they keep on steadfast to the church, hoping that their faith will increase as a grain of mustard seed, till they at length obtain all the supernatural favors which they have been led to anticipate; or that when they die they shall at least continue with the saints and be deemed worthy to enter their paradise.

The promise of future rewards and the threatening of future punishments are indeed much more efficacious than the holding forth of the present miracles for inducing the work of conversion amidst ignorant and superstitious people. The Arabian Prophet induced the corrupt churches of Asia and Africa to abandon their idolatrous errors by placing them between a more tempting heaven and a more terrible hell than those which were furnished by Christianity. Luther, Calvin, and John Knox, would have made no head against the Church of Rome if he had not met the Catholics threatening of wrath to come with loud and fierce counter threats; neither would the Mormons have obtained anything like their present amount of success if they had not declared the end of the world to be fast approaching and deemed all rival religions and unbelievers to hell fire. The comparatively slow progress that the Unitarians have made is owing to their more reasonable and tolerant views and moderate pretensions; they contend that they have the most true and Scriptural form of Christianity, but admit that conscientious people may obtain salvation in other churches as well as in their own; and this will not satisfy the childish multitude, who care nothing for just and reasonable doctrines, but a great deal of promises and curses; and want to believe in the only true and safe church—that which holds out to them, on the cheap terms of faith, the greatest amount of exclusive advantages. If the same class of people, on falling sick, be told by a wise and true physician that they may improve their health greatly by reforming their course of life, by taking more exercise or less food, or having a greater regard for pure air and porosity of their bodies, they go away entirely dissatisfied with his advice; but let a quack doctor promise them impossibilities, telling them that they may have all the health and happiness that the heart can desire, by simply taking his pill and abjuring all other medicines, and they will accept him as a physician indeed. They will swallow his pills and promises with avidity, and confidently await the working of the miraculous charm which is to restore them to perfect soundness. In like manner, it is easy to explain why some of our most eminent and virtuous teachers, such as the Son of Sirach, Hilie, Malchisedek, and Mendelssohn, obtained but few followers, and established no flourishing sect. They would not stoop to take advantage of people's follies and passions; they delivered their doctrine without any bait or whip, and neither did any of their disciples who had wealth and influence effect wholesale conversions by spreading the drug-net of conquest after the fashion of Theodosius, Charlemagne, and Saladin. It is equally easy to understand the slow progress that Mahometanism is making in modern times as compared with the marvellous advances that it made under the victorious Prophet and his successors: its interesting rational, courteous and tolerant spirit wins the admiration of philosophic travelers like Lemaire, but does not commend it, as did its youthful fanaticism, to the superstitious and idolatrous populations of the East.

ONE SINED TESTIMONY.

The most serious charge that Christians bring against us is not the rejection of his prophet or the denial of his divinity, but the putting him to lie under the stigma of being a "nation of murderers," and have suffered on that account the most severe and prolonged crucifixion that fanatic vengeance ever wreaked on the heads of a calumniated people. Some modern Christian writers have pointed out the manifest injustice of punishing for what our forefathers did eighteen hundred years ago; they contend that Caliphate and his wicked council should have been drawn, hung, and quartered, when they were red-handed with the blood of Jesus; and not now we their unfortunate descendants, who were then unborn and unwilly innocent of their crimes. I have to speak of a wrong, to point to a still deeper injustice, that of condemning our forefathers on one-sided testimony, accepting as full proof of their guilt the evidence of four unlearned accusers laboring under a strong sectarian bias when they are not able to make their appearance in court and reply to it.

Supposing some highly respectable Englishman, a member of Parliament, or a member of Convocation, to be accused of murder several years after his death, and a fanatic mob to be incited by the charge, to proceed to his family residence and begin to take vengeance on his children by beating them and urging them to renounce their religion. The children would not rest content with maintaining their own innocence but would declare that a great wrong was done by their parent by thus charging him with a crime when he had left the world and could no longer meet his accusers, face to face, and furnish evidence in his vindication. And so English jury would think of finding a verdict on any such one-sided testimony that might be brought before him, for it would be holding up the balance of justice with one scale wanting. They would consider themselves bound to reserve their judgment till an answer were made to the charge; and if through death or any accident evidence on the other side were not forthcoming, they would declare the matter to be beyond their decision and deliver it up to the judgment of God. Even if the party who underwent to fix the crime of murder on the family of the deceased gentleman were to declare that the truth of the charge was fully established by many remarkable manifestations which had been vouchsafed to them, that testified to the fact that such reported manifestations, whether visible or audible, would not have been witnessed by an English jury, but would be considered of utterly little value, and would not be admitted as ghostly evidence of murder which was conjured upon them during the last century by the inhabitants of a house in Cook Lane. Let us take another case; let us suppose a small company of religious devotees, resembling a sect, to arrive in this country from Japan, to proselyte mission, and to bring documents with them purporting to give a full and authentic version of the origin of the world, and to contain very grave charges against the more intelligent and better educated people of Japan, that they represent the government and priesthood of that country as being a band of unprincipled conspirators who instead of seeking to uphold justice and morality take counsel together to perpetrate the foulest crimes. I am convinced that such an unreasonable assertion would not obtain the least credit here among reflecting people; the sensational literature of Seven Days might be got to believe in it, but no one with the slightest knowledge of domestic and foreign politics such as may be acquired from an ordinary newspaper. It would not be thought necessary to bring a certain number of Japanese rulers to this country that they might answer to the charges that were made against them; nor even send out a commission to investigate the matter and enquire into the moral character of the accused, because every person of common sense and intelligence would be convinced that the business of government is not to be carried on in any nation by a body of malignant and cruel men; and that to do evil and as wickedly opposed to truth and justice as a gang of thieves. Indeed such a story as this representing the educated rulers of a foreign country as having less regard for the principles of virtue and religion than the ignorant people whom they ruled, would be considered unworthy of serious notice, which are occasionally made by trust school boys against the morality of the conductors of their school.

If the Roman Senate, or any other ancient pagan council, were accused in partizan documents which had come down to us of plotting in solemn session the foulest crimes, without any sense of shame or reproach of conscience, or fear of Divine justice falling on them; we should consider such a charge wholly incredible, although we might have no means of estimating the moral character of the accused but by the knowledge of their having attained a high position in the government of their country; but we know a great deal more than this; we know that the Jewish Sanhedrin of God, and was composed of the flower of the virtue of our nation; we know that such upright and illustrious men as Hillel, Gamaliel met in this august assembly, and that where they presented themselves all impure motives and unworthy suggestions would have been shamed away. We know that this Sanhedrin God entrusted the keeping of the Scriptures, and that they were faithful to the charge? Was it ever proved that they corrupted the sacred writings which were committed to them by blasphemous interpretations? Were they accustomed to forge prophecies to serve their controversial purposes? Did they mix up Platonic mysteries with the teaching of Moses, and so lure men into idolatry? If it could be shown on indisputable evidence that they were unfaithful to the Scriptures and the Church of God, and that they masked their heresy with artifices as these, we might reasonably suspect them of being capable of worse things, such as dealing unjustly with their religious opponents, and conspiring against innocent lives. But it is universally acknowledged that they were faithful to their trust; and wherever the Bible is received as the present day, mankind are we then to believe on the testimony of three or four unlearned and unscrupulous narrators, the originators of a heretic literature, abounding in pious frauds, that these respectable stewards of God's Church, to whom we owe so much, were full of malice and wickedness, and went about like a pack of savage wolves seeking to hunt down and devour innocent lambs? I have not the least doubt that the rude, intemperate schismatics who so foully libelled the seventy elders under the presidency of Gamaliel would, if they had lived in the age when the law was first proclaimed, and been as safe from exposure, have brought false accusations just as freely against the seventy of Moses.

Modern Christians contend that the charges which their Gospels made against the Sanhedrin are supported by the present high moral character of their church; but such is clearly not the case; it is evident that they derive no support from it: whatever an untractable child may slander his school teachers on an extravagant degree, and yet grow up to be an eminently honest and truth-speaking man; how then can it be fairly argued that the veracity of the Christian, when it has arrived at the age of manhood, is a sufficient voucher for the truthfulness of its unlearned teacher for the truthfulness of the Church of England, and Christian divines generally, are men of high moral character, and would so much more think of forging prophecies and corrupting books with doctrinal interpolations than any of our own ministers would dream of doing so, yet their means of doing so in this matter does not by any means consist in the reputation of the Christians of the first and second centuries. We are convinced, too, that no Christian clergyman would now think of slandering our venerable Chief Rabbi as he would do so in this age of universal publicity and love of fairness without being promptly called to account for it; but it will be argued from this that Christians did not baselessly calumniate our teachers during the middle age, and still more outrageously in the early period of their church, when it could be done without any risk of exposure and rebuke? The high character of the English monarchy at the present day is never put forward as a voucher for the morality of the Plantagenets, or as a proof that William the Conqueror came to England perfectly fair and justifiable means to his throne; and neither can the high character of the modern Christian church with any more reason be held to render improbable the corrupt and unscrupulous stratagems which were resorted to by some of its rude Greek and Latin fathers and its earlier Nazarene founders and scribes.

It is not to be remarked that the world is governed by three things—wisdom, authority and appearances. Wisdom is for thoughtful people, authority for rough people, and appearances for the great mass of superficial people, who can only look at the outside and who judge only by external manifestations. "When you are in Rome you must do as the Romans," it is held, and "summa jus summa injuria" (extreme right is extreme wrong), has been hinted by the pulpit sometimes. The undisputed, at the start, chose for the text of his career, "Equitas semper ius" (the right is always right), and down and up, and down and up again, beaten, baffled, he has steadily aimed to keep the difficult path of right, a path, not seldom called impossible. And when he climbs high up to write his motto, a dizzy up-look to most people, and everybody cries "a queer Dick" and he adds another "fieri rectius"

Has he not won his price? Has one of his dear friends, the Doctors and Apothecaries of San Francisco, during all these long years of money grabbing and chicanery, aimed for and succeeded in obtaining a bigger price than has GEO. S. DICKEY, Pioneer Apothecary?

UNANSWERABLE ARGUMENTS.

Established facts are silent arguments which neither pen nor tongue can shake, and it is upon established facts that the reputation of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, as a health-preserving elixir, and a wholesome and powerful remedy, is based. When witnesses come forward in crowds, year after year, and reiterate the same statements in relation to the beneficial effects of a medicine upon themselves, disbelieved in its efficacy is literally impossible. The credentials of this unequalled tonic and alterative, extending over a period of nearly twenty years, include individuals of every class, and residents of every clime, and refer to the most prevalent among the complaints which afflict and harass the human family. Either a multitude of people, strangers to each other, have annually been seized with an insane and motiveless desire to deceive the public, or Hostetter's Bitters, for no less than a fifth of a century, have been affording such relief to sufferers from indigestion, fever and ague, biliousness, general debility, and nervous disorders, as no other preparation has ever imparted. To-day, while the eyes of the readers are upon these lines, tens of thousands of both sexes are relying upon the Bitters as a sure defense against the ailments which the present season engenders, and their confidence is not misplaced. The local portions which interested dealers sometimes endeavor to foist upon the sick in its stead, are everywhere meeting the fate that is due to fraud and imposture, while the demand for the great vegetable specific is constantly increasing.

TAKEN INTERNALLY.
It cures sudden Colds, Croup, and Weak Stomach, General Debility, Nausea, Sore Throat, Canker, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, or Indigestion, Cramp or Pain in the Stomach, Bowel Complaints, Pains in the Colic, Asiatic Cholera, Diarrhoea and Dysentery.

APPLIED EXTERNALLY.
Cures Felons, Blisters, and Old Sores, Severe Burns, Scalds, Cuts, Bruises and Sprains, Swelling of the Joints, Ringworm and Tetter, Broken Breasts, Frosted Feet and Chilblains, Toothaches, Pains in the Face, Neuralgia and Rheumatism. It is a sure remedy for Ague, Chills and Fever.

PAIN KILLER.
Taken internally, should be adulterated with milk or water, or made into a syrup with molasses. For a Cough a few drops on sugar, eaten, will be more effective than anything else.

See printed directions, which accompany each bottle.

Sold by all Druggists.

SHIPWRECK.—Last Fall the ship "Swallow" left this port for Galles, South America. A young man, Mr. Jensen took passage on the ship, intending to enter a mercantile house in the above city. The passage was very pleasant till about 300 miles from the port of destination, when suddenly during a night, a terrible hurricane struck the vessel and laid her on her beam-ends. The ship began to fill and scarcely had the unhappy crew succeeded in clearing one boat when the vessel sank beneath the angry waves, carrying down all but three persons, who succeeded in clambering into the boat; among them was Mr. Jensen. For five days the survivors of the above calamity were tossed about in their little open boat, without water and provisions, and were it not for a flask of I. X. L. Bitters which Mr. Jensen happened to have around his body as the shipwreck occurred, and a few drops of which kept up their strength wonderfully, they surely would have perished. On the sixth day a vessel bound for Galles picked them up and brought them in port.

DR. It is simple, mild, soothing, pleasant Remedy—a perfect specific for Chronic Nasal Catarrh, "Cold in the Head," and kindred diseases. The proprietor, E. V. Pierce, M. D., 133 Seneca street, Buffalo, N. Y., offers a reward of $500 for a case of Catarrh that he cannot cure. Sold by druggists, or sent by mail for sixty cents.

Die Uhren lagen auf dem Tische. Fünf Minuten waren verstrichen, und der Rabbi rührte sich nicht.

Rabbi, einen Gegenstand! sagte ich; „oder Schachmatt auf ewig!“

Er lachte verständliche Worte, die mir wie Hebräisch vorkamen.

Noch fünf Minuten, Rabbi! Man tauert nicht mit ewigen Seiten.

Auch diese fünf Minuten verstrichen, und der Rabbi rührte sich nicht. Ich verlor die Geduld.

Rabbi! Noch fünf Minuten, oder Schach-matt auf ewig! Schläfen Sie?

Hiermit sagte ich ihm an seinen hohen, spitzen Schültern und rüttelte ihn. Seine Häufchen lösten sich. Der dicke Kopf sank hin-terüber, die Elefantenzähne waren rot entzündet aus ihren Höhlen getreten, die blaue, wellenförmige Zunge blähte sich aus dem breiten Mund. Die fürchterliche Gestalt fing an zu wanken und fürzte am Ende
mit Schachbrett, Klittern, Tisch und Stuhl potternd und trachend zu Boden. Wir wa-ren im Dunkeln — den Rabbi hatte der Schlag gerührt, und einem Leichnam hatte ich „Schachmatt auf ewig!“ angelacht.

Er pflegte sich so fest an den Tisch zu leh-nen, den Knieknopf so sicher in den Bart, dass selbst der Tod es nicht vermochte, dies un-geheure Gleichgewicht zu stören, und es einen äußeren Anstoß bedurfte den umgestürzten Körper hinzuführen.

Ich lag hart darnieder. Man fürchtete für mein Leben. Nacht für Nacht träumte ich von dem Rabbi und schrie mich an dem Schlaf. Auch bei hellem Tage brauchte ich nur an ein Schachspiel zu denken, so starrte das apoplektische Knieknöpfchen hinter den Figuren fürchterlich mich an. Alsdann ge-rieth ich in eine Art Tobsucht und warf nach der Erscheinung, was mir irgend unter Hän-den kam. Mein Vater sagte dann: „Brav mein Fräulein! Wehre dich gegen deine bösen Einbildungen!“ Ein braver Mann stirbt nicht vor Schreck und wenn er nicht toll werden will, so wird er es niemals. Und siehe, die körperliche Anstrengung milderte den eifrigen Kampf, der die geistigen Kräfte verzehrt. Ich wurde wieder zu mir. Und heute verjährt sich mein fünfundsiebzigstes Weile die Sterbestunde des braven Rabbi.
Vielleicht pocht es um Mitternacht an diese Tür und ich rufe: „Höre!“ und der Selige stolpert über die Schwelle und spricht: „Mein Sohn! Die Ewigkeit geht lang-sam, als unsere Taschenuhren, und ich gehöre der Ewigkeit schon an, als du mir Schachmatt für immer ansagtest.“ Die fünf Minuten zu meinem Gegenüber sind jetzt erst abgelaufen — hier bin ich, denn an dein Spiel, oder ich verkenne dir dein Wort!“

Die jungen Leute sahen sich erschrocken an, und einer derselben erlaubte sich zu fragen: „Herr Professor, ist es wohlgethan, verfüßende Erinnerungen nachzurufen und verjährt Schreckbilder aus ihrem Orbe vorzuladen?“

Unwillig entgegnete Sturmdöller: „Sie hören ja, daß ich meiner Einbildungen spottete.
Der denkende, wissenschaftlich gebildete
Mann wird wider seinen Willen nicht wahnsinnig. Wir haben unsere Schwächen alle, und ich bin aufrichtig; ich gestehe die mei-nigen ein. Meine verwundbare Nerven-beherberge ich in meinem Schädel. Tränen Sie dem vielbewanderten Chirurgen, dem Jrenarzt, dem so viele physische Kuren gelungen, daß er auch weiß, sich selbst zu be-handeln. Und jetzt meine Herren, fassen Sie Ihre Gläser! Eyre dem Andenken des braven Rabbi von Andernach! Wären alle Pfaffen seines Gleichen, so stände es besser um die Welt.“

Eyre dem Andenken des braven Rabbi von Andernach! wiederholte die jungen Leute und erhoben die vollen Gläser.

In diesem Augenblick pochte es aber wirklich an die Tür. Aller Blicken starrten erschrocken dahin und in den zitternden Hän-den schwappten die vollen Gläser über, wäh-rend Sturmdöller zwei volle Flaschen drohend ergreifen hatte und entschlossen rief:<

Erheikern wir uns also.
 Ehre dem Angedenken des seligen Manasse Eohen, Rabbi von Andernach! Friede sei ner Asche!

Sie können bei mir wohnen. Ein stiller Studirtischchen, nebst Benutzung meiner Bibliothek, steht Ihnen zu Diensten. Freilich müssen Sie mein Schlafzimmer mit mir theilen, doch ist es groß genug für uns Beide. Auch meinen Tisch möchte ich Ihnen anbieten, doch weiß ich, daß Ihre Konfession nicht erlaubt, in einem christlichen Hause etwas zu genießen. Ach, Herr Professor unser Geistes ist sehr elastisch. Wo die Noth besteht, und es sich um Gesundheit und Leben handelt, dürfen wir Alles thun. Im Kriege müssen wir dem Korporal gehorchen und in Krankheit den Vorschriften des Arztes ohne nach der Rabbiner zu fragen. — Der Kampf mit der Noth ist ein Krieg, und der ausweichende Mensch ist kein gesunder Mensch mehr. Also, was Sie mir vorsehen, darf ich nicht nur, sondern muß ich sogar genießen. Aber wie wird meine gute alte Mutter sich freuen? Sie können gleich hier bleiben. Sollen wir gehen Sie? Ich will Ihr Gepäck abholen lassen.

Ach, Herr Professor, mein Logis ist armelich, daß ich mich dessen schäme, um mein Gepäck so gering, daß es unter meinen schwachen Arm nehmen kann. Ich möchte Ihnen wohl zu Füßen sinken. Ich meine unangefangene Daubarbeit kennen zu geben. Allein auch das ist mir versagt. Bei meiner abnormen Gekörte würde ein Fußfall von großer Lächerlichkeit sein.

Wer war glücklicher als Manasse! Ich sah ihn von allen drückenden Sorgen befreit. Nicht minder glücklich fühlte ich Sturmflut. Das Gependen seiner Einbildung war ihm wirklich und leibhaftig entgegengetreten. Das Gegenständliche kehrte von traumhaft zur Einbildung. Er hatte sich mit seinem Gependen gut unterhalten und ohne die mindeste Verhängung zu fühlen. Er hatte die Wissenschaftliche Bildung verrathen. Er hatte ihn belustigt, aber auch gerührt und erschüttert. Ein solcher Haas, Lüge, Schlagenosse dünkte ihm erträglich und heilsam und was er an dem Vater irgend vermisst haben mochte, konnte er nunmehr dessen Posthumum reichlich ersetzen.

Sturmflüß war in der Stadt nicht beliebt. Es hieß, er vernachlässige vornemlich die Kunstschiff halber, geringe Patienten. Dem war nicht so. Bei gefährlichen Fällen bei acuten Krankheiten war er augenblicklich zur Hand und benahm sich ohne Ansehen Person hilfreich, heroisch und glücklich, und wohlthatig, wo es noth that. DR. A. B. ATWELL,
Eclectic,

Has discovered, after four years of diligent research, that the Sierra Nevada Mountains are replete with vegetation possessing medical properties far superior to anything ever before discovered. Vegetation possessing medical properties, maturing in a climate like that of California, are more positive in their action, rendering cure more rapid and permanent.

The Doctor has discovered a class of alternatives which combined with those before in his possession, are of priceless value in the treatment of chronic diseases deposited upon an impure state of the blood. Such as Rheumatism either it caused by mercury, Neuralgia, Fever Sore, and indolent ulcers of long standing, treated with success, at a speedy cure guaranteed. No cure no pay, if the Doctor's directions are followed.

FEMALE WEAKNESS.

The Doctor treats successfully all of those complaining under this head, peculiar to the female sex, which if too long neglected or mistreated, speedily end in Consumption, and which he will challenge the medical faculty to produce a course of treatment which is prompt or speedy or effectual cure will equal his.

FEMALEFUGE.

The Doctor has discovered a plant growing in the Sierra Nevada Mountains, by the aid of which he arrests or most malignant fevers (even typhoid), in the space of a few hours, leaving the patient convalescing.

The Doctor's treatment for Scarlet Fever, which is the same as that of Dr. Beach, (of New York) Dr. Souder and Dr. Warren, is the most successful treatment ever adopted, and is very popular because it is so successful.

The Doctor would call special attention to his anti-spermatic treatment for the diseases of children, which at once stops and effectual, relieving congestion and establishing the circulation of the blood in a short time, which has given him an honestly won reputation for the treatment of the diseases of children.

The Doctor having located at No. 36 Post street, between Montgomery and Kearny (up stairs), can be found at his rooms between the hours of 8 and 12 A. M., and 3 P. M., except when professionally absent.

DR. GIBBON'S DISPENSARY.

No. 623 Kearny street, corner Commercial, San Francisco, established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and S-s-nal Diseases, such as Gonorrhoea, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis
in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc., etc. Skin Diseases of every kind, and Ulcered Legs,
etc., successfully treated.

DR. GIBBON has the pleasure of announcing that he has returned from visiting the principal hospitals of Europe, and has resumed practice at his Dispensary.
He has a room, corner of Commercial, where his old patients and those requiring his services may find him.
The Doctor has spared neither time nor money in seeking out new remedies, and has returned with increased facilities for the alleviation of human suffering.

Seminal Weakness.
Seminal emission is the consequence of self abuse.
This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is produced by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing with unerring certainty the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combated
by scientific medical measures, viz: Sallow complexion, dark up is under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves or rattling chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a distaste to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, palpitations and various complaints about the face, hectic flushed, furrowed tongue, feated breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequently insanity. If relief be not obtained, you should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, to have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure.

Cured at Home.
Persons at a distance may be cured at home, by addressing a letter to Dr. Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicine promptly forwarded, free from charge and convenient to any part of the country, with full and plain directions for use, by enclosing $10 in coin, in a registered letter, through the Postoffice or through Wells, Fargo & Co.

A package of medicine will be forwarded by express to any part of the Union.
Persons writing to the Doctor will please state the name of the paper they see this advertisement in.
Private entrance on Commercial street.
All communications strictly confidential.
Address: P. O. Box 1907, San Francisco, California.
